A Note from the Pastors

Songs tell you to “Have yourself a merry little Christmas.” Christmas lights and decorations fill the streets and windows. Parties and special events crowd the calendar. Christmas specials replace regular shows on TV. Everything screams “It’s the most wonderful time of the year!”

That may not be your reality. Christmas can be a painful and difficult time for those who are grieving the loss of someone or something important in their lives.

This may be your first Christmas without a loved one who has died.

You may be going through a difficult transition or life change.

You may be exhausted from dealing with illness or pain.

Your world may be rocked by a separation or divorce.

You may be grieving over a child or family member who has lost their way.

Or you may just be burdened by the endless news of tragedies and crises in our world.

You are not alone.

Jesus said, “Come to me, all of you who are weary and carry heavy burdens, and I will give you rest.”

You
Are Not Alone.

If you are weary, grieving, or burdened, you are invited to come to the chapel on Thursday, December 14, at 6:30pm for a Blue Christmas service. Together, we will acknowledge our pain, listen to God’s Word, spend time in silence, prayer, and quiet song. And we will hear good news even in the midst of the struggles:

*In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.
All things came into being through him, and without him not one thing came into being.
What came to be through him was life,
and this life was the light of the world.
The light shines in the darkness,
and the darkness has not overcome it.*
- Based on John 1:1-5

Jan & Tim

AMONG OUR PEOPLE

We often talk during this season about the “magic” of Christmas. The extra “something” in the air that makes everything seem more special, more infused with energy and meaning. The world sings songs, makes movies, and points to all sorts of things to try and pin down what it is that gives us that tingle in the air, but the truth of the matter is that it all comes down to the inexplicable act of a God who loves us enough to take on human form and walk among his people. It comes down to the awe and wonder at Emmanuel, God with us, God incarnate, self-humbled as a baby boy. The next time we feel that little something “extra” during this season, may we find ourselves kneeling in awe at the manger, once again recalling the wonder of the infant Jesus.

MINISTRY

Session heard a report about Tina's first few weeks as our new Associate in Children's and Youth Ministry.

TRAINING

Elders viewed Session #5, Flourishing as a Church, of the "Becoming a Flourishing Church" series. Discussion followed as elders evaluated the health of our church in six different areas of competency. While we celebrate growth and "wins," we also recognize that we have lots of room to continue growing as we strive to flourish.

December 6, 2017 will be the joint Deacons/Elders/Program Staff/Ministry Leaders meeting. Leaders will work together to flesh out the 2018 FPC:E Goal: "To make sharing the gospel an intentional part of every ministry and mission of FPC:E."

*"FOR TO US A CHILD IS BORN,
TO US A SON IS GIVEN,
AND THE GOVERNMENT WILL BE ON HIS SHOULDERS.
AND HE WILL BE CALLED
WONDERFUL COUNSELOR,
MIGHTY GOD,
EVERLASTING FATHER,
PRINCE OF PEACE."
- ISAIAH 9:6*

LINDA WILLETS CLERK OF SESSION

Each month, Linda provides an overview of the work of our Session. Keep an eye out on this page to see what God is doing through the work of our leadership.

BUSINESS

Session approved that the Annual Meeting be held on February 4, 2018.

The 2018 Session meeting dates were approved.

Session approved extending Brenda Reibson, up to ten hours per week, through December 15.

ECO

Jean Jenkins and Josh Luce reported on the October 13 & 14 Cornerstone Presbytery meeting in Towanda, PA. This was the first official presbytery gathering of Cornerstone Presbytery. The format of the gathering included less than an hour of business. The rest of the time was intentionally committed to worship, fellowship, equipping leaders, praying for specific people and situations, and serving the community.

Session approved Jean Jenkins as the 2nd Commissioner to the 2018 ECO Gathering. Jan and Tim Devine, Sharon Early, and Jean Jenkins will serve as the commissioners from FPC:E. Also attending: Tina Ide, Derek Washburn, Nathan Jacobs, Art Davis, and Brenda Reibson.

FLOURISHING CHURCHES

ARE MADE UP OF FLOURISHING DISCIPLES

BRENDA REIBSON

As we continue to learn and grow together in Christ, we see more and more flourishing take hold in our congregation. One way we flourish is when we make it simple and easy for people to make initial connections with us, and then move on to finding both a meaningful place of service and a smaller community within the congregation in a small group.

Involvement in service and small groups does not automatically ensure spiritual growth and flourishing. However, these points of attachment do provide the framework that allows disciples to grow and flourish, as they serve, worship, learn, pray, and spend time together. Believers were never meant to “go it alone.” Jesus both taught and modeled self-giving care of others, together with fellow believers, as a path to identifying more closely with Him and becoming more like Him.

A few like-minded folks have been working together to develop a system for helping people to move from first-time visitors to fully-engaged covenant partners. You may wonder how the development of a system fits in with the organic process of flourishing. Without a system, people are welcomed and assimilated into the community in a hit-or-miss manner. With a system, each person who begins to attend our church receives the attention and follow-through that will help them to grow closer to the church and to Jesus.

Flourishing disciples make disciples.

This is not an endeavor for just a few people. We all need to be aware of those whom God might be nudging us to welcome, to get to know, to invite to serve or visit a small group with us. We can all be part of helping someone to become a flourishing disciple.

In addition, it takes a number of people committed to the development of the Connecting Ministries Team. Sharon Early is heading up the team and you can speak with her about what role you might play. Call her at 607-748-8196 or email her at sharon@fpcendicott.org.

Welcoming

Welcoming is the important task of offering an easy connecting point and first impression to those who are visiting our community of faith.

Opportunities:

Greeter – In sanctuary or at outside doors
Guest connector/floater – Intentionally sees that visitors connect with someone during their visit

Servant-making

Involvement in servant-making is for those who have a desire to help others discover the ministry God has for them.

Opportunities:

Discovery class facilitator – leading larger groups through the material to discern gifts
Ministry consultant - one-on-one meetings

Small Groups

People today are longing and searching for community. In an increasingly disconnected society, we have found small groups to be a powerful and effective way to connect and grow in one's faith.

Opportunities:

Small group ministry team member – assists the small group ministry in developing and coaching leaders and starting new groups
Small group leader or member

CONNECT

AND SHE GAVE BIRTH TO HER FIRSTBORN SON AND WRAPPED HIM IN BANDS OF CLOTH, AND LAID HIM IN A MANGER, BECAUSE THERE WAS NO PLACE FOR THEM IN
THE INN. — LUKE 2:7

ARE YOU WILLING TO WELCOME THE STRANGER (GUEST) AMONG US THIS CHRISTMAS SEASON?

We look around and believe we are a welcoming congregation, but there is a difference between welcoming and really connecting with someone. People are not necessarily looking for a friendly church but rather for a friend (per a recent webinar) – someone to share life with and navigate a world that is increasingly more complex and hostile to the Christian faith. So if we are just friendly, give a quick greeting to someone but then are immediately looking for one of our friends to catch up with – that can be incredibly discouraging for someone visiting and feeling lost within our midst. It also might explain why statistics say only 10% of guests return!

As Brenda has highlighted, we have been working on formulating a Connecting Ministries Team, but that team will only be effective if the entire congregation is committed to welcoming others and helping them connect into our congregation. Realistically, what would this look like?

First – making sure we have enough greeters at the outside doors. Why is this important? Can you remember back to when you first entered our complex (and it is complicated!)? With our multiple levels and doors it can be difficult for a visitor to find the sanctuary, childcare/children's ministry, restrooms, etc. Just having a warm greeting lets them know they have at least successfully found a door to enter! Questioning if they need help finding something also alleviates them looking uncomfortable or getting up the courage to ask someone for help. This ministry position is ideal for someone who likes helping others and maybe is not comfortable with having to converse for any length of time. For those attending the first service, you are already in the building, so it is an excellent opportunity to help serve those at the second service. If this interests you, contact Meaghan Cady, Beth Dean, or Janet Cook.

Second – having eyes for people who are new in our midst, including them in conversations, really connecting with them. FORM is an easy acronym that was shared with me recently to help people connect :

- Family – are they from here? Do they have kids? Etc?
- Occupation – their work, being a mom or dad, retired – all of this is a big part of people's identity
- Recreation – what do they like to do for fun?
- Message – tell them why you love being involved here at FPC:Endicott and ask if they would like some additional information or to be introduced to someone in a particular ministry.
Encourage them to fill out a connect card (located in the pews) so we have ways to follow up with them.

You can always use the information you learned about them to purposefully introduce them to someone who may have the same interests, be in the same stage of life or just might be someone you feel they will connect with. You don't have to connect with others by yourself! Just be willing to take that first step and get to know someone.

This Advent season, may our church truly be a place for others to find their home. I would hate for someone to leave our doors feeling like there was "no place for them in the inn."

CM CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

Our team of dedicated teachers is always looking for ways to improve our children's ministry so that all of our children can experience God's Word, God's love, God's forgiveness, and God's adoption, so that they may obey God's call in their life.

*Throughout the fall, our children's ministry has been blessed with many children- which has resulted in big classes and large spans in maturity and developmental abilities. To provide a better environment for learning and growing, we are excited to share with you that this January we will be creating a new class for our 4th and 5th grade students. Here's what children's ministry will look like beginning January 7, 2018:

- Please join our Fellowship group and friends of First Pres for our annual Christmas gathering on Friday December 15, at 12:00PM for dinner and Christmas entertainment, under the direction of Bob Dealaman, at Good Shepherd Village, Endwell, NY. Reservations are needed by December 10, to Charlie and Maxine Waughtel at 607-625-4693. Come join us for fellowship, great food, and to welcome the Christmas holidays and the birth of our Savior.

- The Deacons give thanks and praise for the generous contributions to our Thanksgiving food collection, which was distributed to approximately fifteen families and individuals from among our nursery school and congregation.
- The Angel Tree will be set up and available in the gathering area for the first two Sundays in December (Dec 3, Dec 10). Please note: wrapped gifts with tags are due back no later than Dec 15.
- To FPC:E from the Everetts: So recently we met Jesus! He was in friends, neighbors, drivers, calls, meals, visits, books, prayers, chores and other blessings that appeared at our door while I rested and healed from my recent medical problems and Adele did the work of many, caring for me. Through you all He encouraged us, brightened our days and blessed us. We are grateful and amazed. May God bless you. Thank you, Paul Everett.

- College and Young Adult Gathering– Wednesday, Dec. 27 @6pm. Meet at Thai Basil in Endicott for dinner. Head to Ideal Lanes around 8pm to bowl the night away! Contact Jan Devine if you plan to attend so we can get a head count.

Price per plant is $13.00. Please make checks payable to First Presbyterian Church of Endicott.

Donated plants are delivered to members of our church who are homebound or over 80 by the deacons.

For the past 14 months, Derek Buffington has served as the Sunday Morning Custodian here at FPC:E. This behind-the-scenes position is essential for all that happens each Sunday morning. Derek has been responsible for opening up the church; keeping the sidewalks clear of snow; preparing the sanctuary, gathering area, chapel, and rooms for use; closing up, cleaning, and securing the building; addressing needs that arise during the morning; and keeping a watchful eye on the facility and people to help create a safe environment.

As Derek moves toward graduation this spring and then on to college, he has started working a job that gives him more hours. We applaud the maturity and responsibility Derek has shown in the position here at FPC:E. We give thanks for his service!

SUNDAY MORNING TRANSITION

We are blessed that Eric Eiche has volunteered to step up and serve in this position while we continue to look for a permanent employee.

Eric currently works as a NYS inspector of construction that stops during the winter months. We give thanks that Eric is willing to serve in this important capacity during our transition!

If you know someone who might be interested in applying for the position, please contact David Meza or Bruce Barney. We are looking for someone who possesses these qualities: reliability, enthusiasm for the job, flexibility, and a desire to provide a safe, clean and welcoming environment. The person must be a team player, a self-motivator, and a positive interpreter of the life and activities of the Church.

A THANK YOU

"Thank you" is so inadequate to express proper appreciation for the time and energy people have put into preparing the McKinley House for Tina Ide. Older houses need lots of attention, and this one is no exception. Day after day, workers have stripped wall-paper, repaired walls, painted, redone the bathroom and kitchen, sealed windows, and refinished floors. In addition to accomplishing a great deal of work, there was plenty of time for good fellowship as well.

"THANK YOU!"

To these folks who helped with the house: Ede Sornberger, Eric Sornberger, Richard Davey, Lynn Smith, Lou Pasquale, Derek Washburn, Gordie Pollard, Todd Mansfield, Scott Farrell, and Bryan and Sharon Early.

To these women, who helped with the weekly cleaning at the church to free up Lou to work at the McKinley house: Carol Smith, Dawn Davey, Kim Melrose-Harty, Linda Glajch, and Pat Labzentis.

AN INVITATION

For Christians, the season of Advent anticipates the coming of Christ from three different perspectives: in the flesh in Bethlehem, in our hearts daily, and in glory at the end of time.

The Worship Ministry Team is offering the book, Awaiting the Already: An Advent Journey Through the Gospels by Magrey R. deVega, senior pastor at Hyde Park United Methodist Church in Tampa, Florida. From the introduction: "Each gospel, in its own way, leads us on the Advent journey of preparation for Christ's coming. This book takes a tour through the four Gospel narratives that announce Christ's birth or make way for his ministry. Discover what parts of the Christmas story come from which Gospel, and uncover Advent's tension between the past and the future within your own life. In doing so, you will recognize an invitation from each Gospel writer to prepare for a fresh experience of Christ in the present."

For all who are interested in making this journey together, there will be a Facebook page in which we can share with each other our thoughts, questions, and discoveries each day. If you signed up last year, you still have access. If you would like to join the Facebook discussion group, FPC: Advent 2017, just search for the group and you can join right from the Facebook page. Books and the reading schedule are available in the narthex of the sanctuary.
